Other	Schurch-Schuerch Family History, Vol. 2	Dr. Terry L. Schurch Richmond, OH	Dr. Terry L. Schurch Richmond, OH, 1990	87122220							This book covers the genealogy of a broad spectrum of Schürchs who emigrated from Switzerland to the United States primarily during the 2nd half of the 19th century and early 20th C. but altogether encompassing the years of 1805 to 1916. The immigrants in this book are identified by codes (2A) through (2Z), to distinguish them from the earlier immigrants that the Schürch Family Association of North America has previously coded A through Z. However, the code numbers following the initial identifiers (2A) through (2Z) are assigned in the conventional manner according to the order of birth in the family. Therefore, the coding is completely compatible and easily understood.
Other	Origins of a Progressive Mennonite Family: Descendants of Schirch, Rich, Stahly, Shelly, Good, and Brun.	Verne Schirch Harrisonburg, VA	Campbell Print Center Harrisonburg, VA 2017	ISBN 978-1-60341-056-9		X			Not for sale. Copies also in Mennonite libraries at Goshen, IN, Bethel, Newton, KS, Bluffton, OH, Eastern Mennonite University, Harrisonburg, VA, Hartsyville, PA, Beinenberg Seminary, Switzerland, & Weierhof, Germany.		Verne's ancestors came from the Alsace region of France. Of six ancestor families, five came to Illinois and Iowa after 1850. These families were all Amish in Europe, but soon after arrival they became members of the Central Conference of Mennonites in Illinois-the most progressive Mennonite conference in America. In 1945 these churches joined the General Conference of Mennonites. The book asks the question: Why did these Amish who lived in Europe until after 1850 become progressive in the U.S. while members of these same families who came to Pennsylvania in the 18th century remained conservative? Did these families become progressive in Europe or only after arrival? The book proposes an answer. The last half of the book is about Carol and Verne's family life from 1958 until the fall of 2017. Uncoded immigrant ancestors from Canton Lucerne, Switzerland.
